Dear Mr. Hassid,

Thank you for your inquiry regarding our business here at CCF Brands. CCF Brands is Category Manager for fresh shell eggs in major retail in the USA, supplying billions of eggs annually to the retail market.

As part of our food safety program to mitigate the risks related to salmonella contamination we require our suppliers of eggs to use an 8-step salmonella mitigation program. One of these important steps is the required feeding of XPC supplied by Diamond V in the diets of the laying hens of our customers.

We take our obligation to both our customers and the industry very seriously in helping to provide safe food to assist in improving the lives of our customers.
